Featured Lindal Home Plan: Fitzpatrick

The Fitzpatrick's sunlight wall entry immediately creates that warm, comfortable feeling found in many traditional home designs. Traditional charm and efficient use of space blend perfectly throughout this home plan. A loft master suite located on the upper floor, a breakfast nook on the main floor and a walk-in pantry off the kitchen round out the design of this home.

Tips to Building “Green” with Lindal Cedar Homes:

Go Natural – Some of the most beautiful building materials – including cedar and other natural woods, ceramic tile, and stone – are easy on the environment, too.

Build in high-energy efficiency with passive solar, insulation and window placement.

Consider products made of recycled materials.

Each year, Lindal’s reforestation program funds the planting of thousands of trees – more than enough to replace the material used in our homes. Our goal: to ensure sustainability for generations to come.

Plan details:

Start Your Remodeling Project with a Lindal Addition or Sunroom

Lindal room additions are ideal for spaces such as expanding your kitchen, stunning master bathroom remodels, spa and pool enclosures, family room additions, elegant dining rooms and sunny breakfast nooks. You'll be pleasantly surprised to learn that your new Lindal addition will cost about the same as a locally constructed room.

Don't be surprised if your Lindal room addition becomes the most popular room in the house! Regardless of where you choose to remodel or add on to your home, your family will enjoy the natural light and newly transformed space.
